MOTIVATIONS

- Protect his family's financial future against rising, unpredictable healthcare inflation in India.
- Gain absolute peace of mind knowing a sudden medical emergency won't wipe out his entire life savings.
- Secure an independent health policy so he isn't entirely dependent on his volatile corporate employee cover.

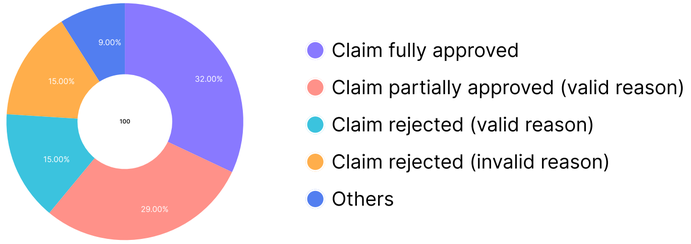

GOALS

- Purchase an unbiased, comprehensive Term Life and Health insurance plan
- Find a transparent advisor who explains policy exclusions and hidden clauses without pushing a specific brand.
- Ensure 100% smooth, hassle-free claim support so his family doesn't have to fight legal battles during a crisis.

PAIN POINTS

- Aggressive Spam & Mis-selling: Overwhelmed and exhausted by pushy sales calls from aggregators chasing high commission structures.
- Fear of Unethical Claim Rejection: Deeply distrusts insurers who use technical loop-holes (like arbitrary PED clauses) to deny middle-class claims while favoring HNIs.
- FDI & Systemic Uncertainty: Worried that upcoming 100% FDI will introduce profit-driven, foreign "anti-patient" corporate structures that make claim processing even harder

Qualitative Deck Research

Method

- 15+ High-Engagement Personal Finance Threads Analyzed
- 350+ Unfiltered Consumer Claims Reviews Evaluated
- r/personalfinanceindia & Twitter (X) Ecosystem Case Studies

Key Insights

System Favors the Rich
Users believe insurers pay out claims easily to high-value bank clients, while everyday middle-class buyers get treated like pool donors and face constant rejection.

Sneaky Policy Cancellations
Companies use minor, past health histories (PEDs) as a loophole to completely reject claims, cancel active policies, and refuse to refund the premium money (up to ₹32,000+).

Left Stranded After Rejection
Platforms promise to "fight for you," but when a claim is denied, they often pass the user to third-party apps or leave them waiting months for a silent government reply.

Fear of Foreign Corporate Rules
Buyers worry that 100% FDI will bring aggressive US-style corporate rules where profit-driven insurance guidelines overrule a local doctor's medical advice.

Trusting Reddit Over Ads
Consumers ignore flashy marketing and self-reported success stats. Instead, they read unfiltered peer reviews on Reddit and Twitter to choose who to trust.

CONCLUSION

Ditto’s competitive advantage won’t be the policies it sells.

but the trust it builds before, during, and after every insurance decision

100% FDI will bring more capital, more competitors, and more noise to Indian insurance, but it won't automatically bring more trust. That's the one thing this industry has never solved for itself, and it's exactly where Ditto already has a lead: a 35% referral rate doesn't happen by accident.
